Duquesne Light Participates in Annual “Day of Caring” to Support United Way of Allegheny County

PITTSBURGH – Yesterday, 75 Duquesne Light employees participated in the United Way of Allegheny County’s annual “Day of Caring” event to help improve lives by addressing critical community needs.

“Duquesne Light is committed to supporting the communities we serve,” said Lisa Minor, Senior Community Relations Specialist at Duquesne Light. “Our employees are always eager to volunteer in the Day of Caring, which is a testament to their loyalty and dedication to the betterment of our community.”

Employees performed community service at several nonprofit organizations across the city, including:

- Greater Pittsburgh Community Food Bank: Volunteers will repackage food items in the facility’s warehouse located in Duquesne. These items will then be distributed to local food pantries in the community.
- Human Services Center Corporation: Volunteers will perform various improvement and maintenance projects within the Turtle Creek facility, including a revitalization of the library.
- North Hills Community Outreach: Volunteers will work in pairs to visit senior citizens homes in the north hills community and perform safety checks, including installing smoke detectors if needed.
- St. Barnabas Health System: Volunteers will assist the senior residents of Washington Place and the Woodlands with small tasks and activities.
- The Center: Volunteers will perform various improvement and maintenance projects within the Midland facility.
- The Education Partnership: Volunteers will prepare and stock the Resource Room for the next round of teacher distribution appointments at the West End facility.
